Overview of standards

Standard chicken

EU production:

- Chickens can be stocked up to 42kg/m<sup>2</sup>, severely restricting their movement
- Fast growing birds are used which can suffer difficulty walking, have a poor immune system, cardiac disease and be lethargic
- Enrichment is not a requirement and birds are kept in sheds on litter, without natural light

UK production:

- UK legislation is in-line with EU standards except stocked up to 39kg/m<sup>2</sup>

Certification schemes for indoor birds

Red Tractor indoor:

- Chickens can be stocked up to 38kg/m<sup>2</sup>
- Fast growing birds which can suffer difficulty walking, have a poor immune system, cardiac disease and be lethargic
- Enrichment is not a requirement of standards and birds can be kept in sheds on litter without daylight

RSPCA Assured Indoor:

- Stocked at not more than 30kg/m<sup>2</sup> to allow birds room to move around the shed
- Slower growing birds are mandatory to improve broilers' health and welfare
- Natural light and enrichment required

Certification schemes for Free range birds

Red Tractor free range:

- Stocking density up to 27.5kg/m<sup>2</sup>
- Fast growing birds are allowed, which can suffer difficulty walking, have a poor immune system, cardiac disease and be lethargic
- Enrichment required in the shed and access to the outdoors during the day

RSPCA Assured free range:

- Stocking density up to 27.5kg/m<sup>2</sup>
- Slower growing birds are mandatory to improve broilers' health and welfare
- Enrichment required in the shed and access to the outdoors during the day

Organic UK (including Soil Association and Organic Farmers and Growers)

- Stocking densities from 21kg/m<sup>2</sup> to 30kg/m<sup>2</sup>
- Enrichment required in the shed and access to the outdoors during the day
- Slower growing breeds are recommended for improved broiler's health and welfare, but not mandatory
