

Laying hens

We, the undersigned, are fully committed to phasing out cages for laying hens in our egg supply chains in Europe. We believe our business decision withstands ethical, responsible, and commercial scrutiny. We call on the EU Commission to prioritise and enact robust legislation that prohibits the use of cages for laying hens in Europe. Such legislation is essential to ensure a level playing field across the industry, uphold reciprocal standards for non-European trade, and affirm Europe's leadership in advancing animal welfare.

Plus 5 private signatories

Sows

We, the undersigned, are proud to be on a journey towards ending the use of sow stalls and farrowing crates in our European supply chains. Our commitment reflects a business decision grounded in ethical responsibility, commercial viability, and consumer expectation. We call on the EU Commission to prioritise and enact robust legislation that prohibits the use of sow stalls and farrowing crates in Europe. Such legislation will ensure a level playing field across the industry and reinforce Europe's leadership in advancing animal welfare.

Plus 1 private signatory

Rabbits

We, the undersigned, are proud to be progressing towards cage-free systems for meat rabbits in our supply chains in Europe. Our commitment reflects a business decision that stands up to ethical, responsible, and commercial scrutiny. We call on the EU Commission to prioritise and enact robust legislation that prohibits the use of cages for meat rabbits across Europe. Such legislation will ensure a level playing field across the industry and reinforce Europe's leadership in advancing animal welfare.

4 private signatories